FULCRUM VERSION 02

RELEASED
25.3.2026

Fulcrum is a flavourful sans serif typeface inspired by Antique Olive but with a more neutral and straight forward execution. The shapes have a familiar feeling flare to them but are drawn subtly enough for the typeface to remain solidly in the functional realm. A workhorse with a twist if you will.

Version Beta02 includes ten weights from Thin to Black, basic latin language support and most symbols and punctuation.

This character was thrown into the first film as window dressing, was never thought through, and as a result has been saddled with one facial expression and one mournful yelp. Much more could have been done. How can you be a space pilot and not be able to communicate in any meaningful way?
